👤 PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm 19 and already building things from a small city in Pakistan with nothing but a laptop and a refusal to wait. I've launched multiple ventures, worked remotely with UK clients, managed real social media operations, and built an AI-powered tool for a national competition. Not everything worked. All of it taught me something. Right now I'm studying Economics at the University of Malakand while deepening my expertise in AI tools, digital marketing, and business strategy. I learn fast, work independently, and bring real-world experience to everything I do.
